NOTICE

This is for information of all concerned in general and the job applicants in particular that they may be more cautious and careful while applying against this Institute advertisements inviting applications for various posts.

It has come to the notice of this Institute that certain unscrupulous persons are using some phishing sites with the intention of duping the innocent applicants of their money by charging higher examination fee, hampering their employment opportunity and other malafide motives.

Therefore, applicants are hereby advised that they use only CSIR-CMERI official website i.e. www.cmeri.res.in and the links provided therein for submission of online application.
